

Computer Science Final Project Grading Rubric

Trait	Exceptional	Very Good	Acceptable	Not acceptable
Statement of the Topic and purpose of the Report	The presenter clearly stated the application of the project in the field.	The presenter Stated the Topic and application of the project.	The presenter alluded to the Topic and application	Topic and application not stated
Relation of the Report Topic	The project had relevance or practical application in today's world in the field. The information presented was accurate.	The project had a function or useful purpose in the field. Most information was accurate	Project covered topic but not thoroughly	Report did not reflect the topic
Technology Vocabulary	The presenter used appropriate computer vocabulary and used it correctly	The presenter used appropriate computer vocabulary with a minor error or two.	The presenter used some appropriate computer vocabulary incorrectly	Did not use/know the meaning of most word used in Report and used wrong words
Understanding & Presentation	The presenter showed advanced depth of understanding of relevant computer concepts and principles by responding to all questions. Presentation is clear and understandable and in a loud enough voice to be heard 12 topic slides or more	The presenter showed satisfactory depth of understanding of relevant computer concepts and Principles. Answered most questions correctly. Students voice was difficult to hear 25% of the time 10 topic slides	The presenter appeared to understand a few of the concepts of the topic. Could only respond to one or two questions. Could not be heard 50 % of the time 8 topic slides	Did not show understanding of computer concepts or principles. Could not answer any questions. The presentation could not be heard. Less than 5 – 7 topic slides.
Research	The presenter showed research from five sources and documented them properly	The presenter showed research and documented them properly used less than five sources	The presenter research source inappropriate and Source improperly documented-less than three sources	No Research, no citations improperly documented